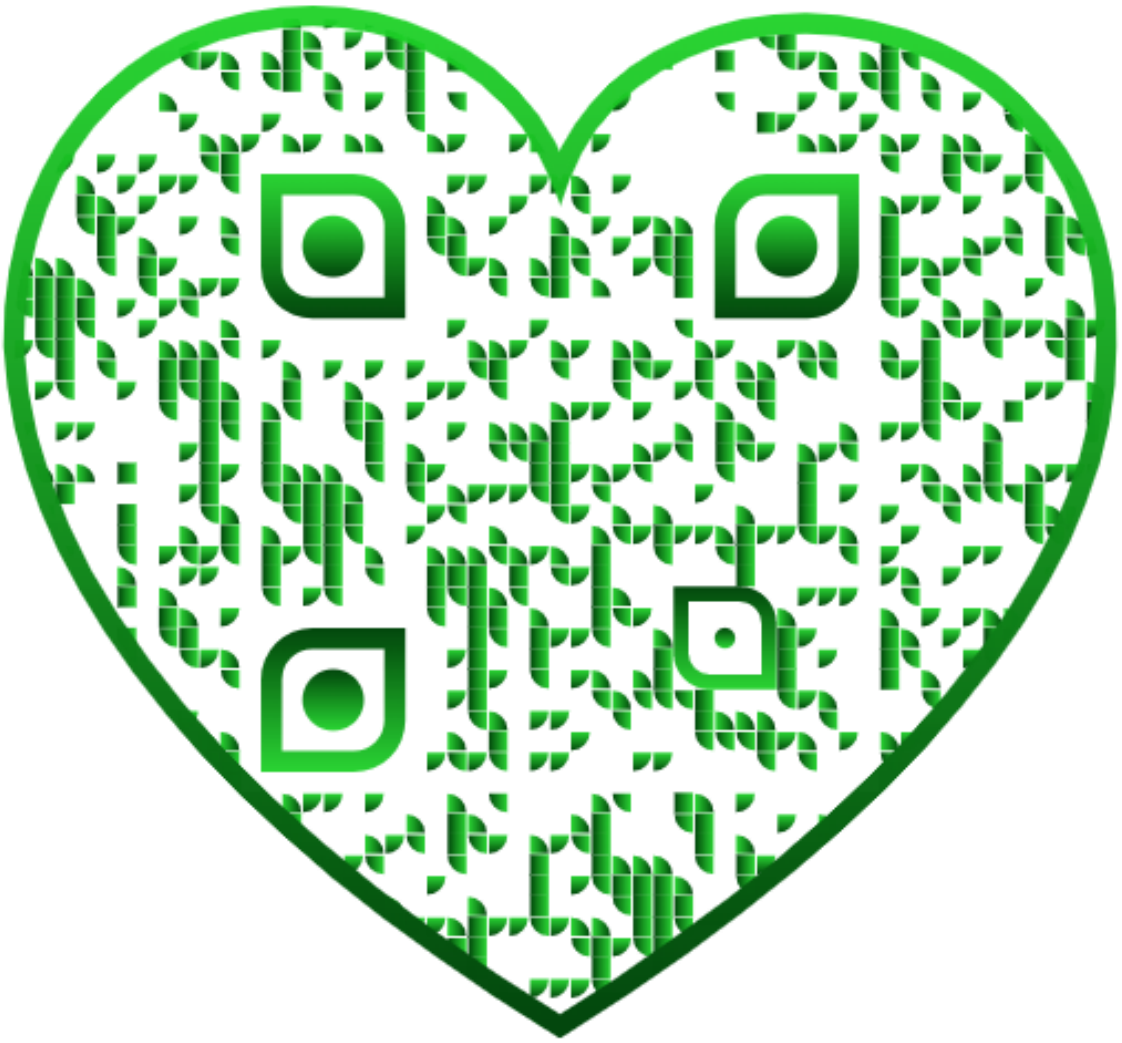
And There's No Stopping Us!



HOT IN THE SHADE

In a world filled with bands whose overnight success is usually matched by their equally overnight return to obscurity, there are few legends...And in a time when many groups pay tribute to their heroes with hollow imitation, most of those heroes have ceased to exist. ✦ KISS has always been the exception. ✦ KISS continues to be loved by their fans and despised by their critics. With each passing year and with every new voice that wears poster or soundtrack dress, their place in rock history grows larger and larger. ✦ Burned? Ill cleared? ✦ Legends? Absolutely! ✦ When the band first made its debut at New York's Academy of Music, opening a 1973 New Year's Eve bill with Blue Oyster Cult, Iggy Pop and Teenage Lust, the rock scene was ripe for the kind of change KISS represented. ✦ Wherever and whenever KISS played, stunned audiences gained the word about the most flamboyant rock stage show ever assembled. The pounding, direct rhythms, simple anthemic melodic hooks and big chorus along choruses were perfect for the newly born KISS nation. ✦ The records did not impress critics or radio programmers at first, and the live shows concerned only the fans who saw them. Headlining groups blown off stage by the "take no prisoners" performances of KISS were furious and tried to sabotage the band's equipment to shut them down. Finally, when not even headlining groups would allow them to open their show, KISS took their own music to people in theaters and clubs nationwide. ✦ Within two years, KISS was headlining stadiums. KISS had become an institution — There were KISS comic books, television "Incare Kiss and a line paraphernalia the likes of which had not been seen since the days of Beatlemania. ✦ In 1977 1978 and 1979, the Gallup Poll named KISS the most popular group in the world — above the Beatles, Led Zeppelin and a host of others. ✦ KISS music has always emulated "spit in your eye" attitude, and musical proficiency as witnessed on massive box-scorers' tunes like "Rock and Roll All Nite", "Detroit", and "Deuce". Finally capturing the excitement of the group's live show on vinyl with "KISS ALIVE" released in late '75, quickly establishing the group as the premier American Supergroup. ✦ When KISS left Mar during a ballad "Torn" they did it, and not just your standard heart rock ballad with muzzled guitars and baby drums, but a full blown orchestral swing grenadeth good enough to dominate the airwaves. ✦ When they left Mar making a record with as dance beat rumble, they did it and did it with fanfare and a flourish, I'll Was Made For Lovin' You" from their "DYNASTY" LP showing pop hue and tongue and lowering the hammers for others to keep ever knee down the line. ✦ When they felt like making a concept album they came up with one of the best, ("PSYCHO) ROPE THE ELDERS"a record that provided new and daring musical explorations, resulting in a darker look and a renewed there for the "hard stuff." When they felt that continuing to wear their world famous war paint makeup would see them recreating their past instead of forging the future, they did what their critics thought would end it all. Defying the odds, they took the makeup off and proved once and for all that underneath was a classic rock and roll band. ✦ Now as 1990 embarks on their most ambitious tour in a decade to support "HOT IN THE SHADE", their 15th album — a fitting song testament to their commitment to rock and roll, that's already spawned the Top 5 hit, "Forever" and three killer videos, among them "Rise To It", where for the first time in three years, KISS puts their makeup back on for a Saddleback response. ✦ If you had to describe KISS simply? Just say rock and roll ! KISS never has and never will preach to their fans. They do not endorse religious groups or political parties, the only politics they like to talk about are the real human politics and the value of the word "I" ...as in "I can" and "I am." They may not solve your personal problems, but they can help raise them, a welcome respite from the traffic jam on the loss. Two hours of blistering music and spectacle with no pocket left unstirred and no hands left unexploited as their entire spare re-eventual all corsairs and lionhearts the senses. ✦ Sure, some bands like to wave on all deep and meaningful, waving one square and bawling at the moon, but that simply isn't the KISS way. ✦ Embarrassed? ✦ Just approaching the end of their second decade together...15 albums, and millions of miles later, what was true at the birth of KISS is still true: "KISS MAKE THE MUSIC YOU GOT THE MOST...THE HOTTEST BAND IN THE WORLD...KISS.
